TIPS Questions about JR trains? Call JR EAST Infoline at 050-2016-1603 (English spoken)

10:00 - 18:00 (except during the year-end / New Year period)

- At first, purchase tickets at Fussa station or other major JR stations. If you plan to get a reserved seat tickets, we suggest you purchase them in advance - they are available 1 month prior to your departure date. NOTE: "HAYATE" train - ALL RESERVED SEATS. The express surcharge price varies depending on the season (peak or off-peak) specified by the JR company. (There are exceptions - pls check w/ the JR)
- At Fussa station, you can take either the "Tokyo-Bound" service Ome Line which goes all the way to Tokyo without transfer, or "local" Ome Line which requires a transfer at Tachikawa station to the Chuo Line toward Tokyo.
- Please check the departure track# for Tohoku Shinkansen line (the bullet train "HAYATE" ) at Tokyo sta. (shown on the above-left chart ). At least 20 min. should be necessary for transfer at Tokyo station (IMPORTANT: track#s are subject to change - check the electric sign boards in Tokyo station for the latest information). Take the "HAYATE" bullet train to Hachinohe station.
- At Hachinohe station, if you have already purchased the ticket for connecting Limited Express Train, transfer to the specified one. Or if you have NOT purchased the ticket for the Limited Express train, you can either take a regular Tohoku Honsen Line train (no extra fee necessary) or Limited Express Train by paying extra 500yen for the express surcharge. The difference of duration between these two types of train services is about 10 min.
- Before or when riding on express trains, show your tickets to a conductor or attendant to make sure if you are on the proper seating.
